Keynote Speakers

Mario Callegaro,
Google UK

Gordon Willis, National Cancer
Institute, National Institutes of Health

QDET2 will be the first international conference in more than a decade devoted to both the design of survey questionnaires and the methods used for their development, evaluation, and testing. It will provide a creative environment for researchers from across the world working in government, academia, and the private sector to share new solutions and fresh approaches to survey measurement, questionnaire design, and evaluation.
